

PUBLIC GIVES FREELY TO RED CROSS

Subscriptions In Arlington Reach
Record Amount

Never since the days of the world war have Arlington Heights people rallied to a common cause as they have today to the Red Cross call for flood relief funds. There is not an organization in town that has not had a part in the accumulating of the money that has put Arlington Heights "over the financial top." With a tentative quota of $500, interest has grown as the effects of the disaster increase, until that self imposed quota has been more than doubled.

Denominational lines have been forgotten, natural rivalry between groups and organizations have been thrown to the background as the several bodies and societies bring their subscriptions to Mrs. Rex Volz, Red Cross chairman and the other members of her committee.

Families who are on relief are as anxious to contribute as are their more wealthy neighbors. No individual credit through the press will be given for subscriptions and no individual expects it. Such action on the part of the committee would not be in keeping with the spirit in which the money is given.

Liberty loan drive methods of 1918 are not necessary to secure the needed funds which will be expended to save lives, not to destroy them.

The accompanying simple announcement of the committee regarding the result of the Red Cross drive in Arlington Heights does not tell half of the story. The record of payments and receipts issued may be available for auditing purposes, but mere figures can not disclose the spirit of the givers.

With a total church attendance Sunday of over 700 worshippers, St. Peter's Lutheran church congregation contributed over $400 to flood relief.

St. John's church has turned over to the Red Cross nearly a hundred dollars and the Presbyterian church and Sunday school have passed the $100 mark. St. James Catholic congregation through the Holy Name and kindred societies, did exceptionally well, as did also the Methodist church. These contributions were practically entirely secured Sunday, with only a simple announcement from the pulpit of the purpose for which the money was to be used.

The high school pupils have pledged their candy money for a week. The employees of Krause's Cash Market gave as a body, as did also the local employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. The P. T. A., C. F. W. and auxiliary, the Lions club, Eastern Star and the Masonic lodge all did their part.

As announced last week the legion post voted $50 for relief, half of which was sent through its own organization into the stricken territory. The auxiliary also gave a generous donation to the local fund.

There are countless other groups that are helping, and deserve credit for their efforts as it is funds from their individual members which have swelled the total past the $1,200 mark.

The legion auxiliary has cooperated and with the legion post have assumed the responsibility for the collecting of clothing, which has reached large quantities. Mr. Kehe will transport an entire truck load to Chicago before the end of the week.

Ever ready to run errands, deliver receipts and answer the numerous calls, are the members of Boy Scout Troop No. 7, who have been doing many good turns daily for the flood sufferers in the south.

Arlington Heights has done its part and has taken a lot of joy in doing it.

Note: Those who have not yet contributed can do so by calling at the office of Dr. Fisher, 6 West Campbell street, calling Mrs. Rex Volz on the phone or mailing contribution to local Red Cross committee.

Eagles Aid Local Red Cross Fund
The Fraternal Order of Eagles whose Aerie club rooms are located at Park Ridge, presented to Mrs. Rex Volz Wednesday morning a check for over $75, representing half of the net receipts of a "days of '49" held the previous evening. Membership in the order is largely in Park Ridge and Arlington Heights and the net receipts were divided between the two towns. It was through the generous donation of merchandise by Arlington Heights merchants as well as Park Ridge business men that the event was so successful.

Salesman Drops Dead
While Taking Order

D. D. Caldwell, parts salesman for Chevrolet Motor company, suffered an attack of cerebral apoplexy Saturday afternoon while taking an order at the Arlington Chevrolet company, 115 N. State road, Arlington Heights, and died ten minutes afterward. Dr. B. T. Best was summoned, but the man was dead when he arrived.

The body was taken to Lauterburg & Oehler undertaking parlors and later transferred to the Scott Undertaking parlors in Evanston.

Caldwell, who was 35 years old, resided in Wheaton.

Red Cross
Appreciates Efforts
Of Community

The citizens of Arlington Heights have responded generously to help relieve the suffering in the flood stricken area of the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys. The local Red Cross committee deeply appreciates the efforts of all individuals, churches, their organizations, Sunday schools, schools and other organized groups, that have made it possible to make a very substantial contribution to the Chicago Chapter of the American Red Cross. The American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary accepted the responsibility of handling the blankets, clothing and supplies, and a huge quantity is being trucked to a central concentrating point of the American Red Cross in Chicago, from which point it will be shipped by freight to St. Louis for redistribution.

It is not the policy of your local Red Cross committee to publish a list of names of contributors and amounts given, because it is not the amount, but rather the spirit of sacrifice and the sincere desire to help that brings happiness and satisfaction to the giver. However, all contributions have been received for and Red Cross books carry names and amounts.

The committee also wishes to thank the local newspapers for their generous publicity, and the Boy Scouts, Troop No. 7, for their help in distributing notices and being of general assistance to the committee.

Palatine Sewer
Project Pigeon Holed
At Washington

Arthur Conser, village engineer who has charge of steering Palatine's application for a WPA grant to help build a modern sewer disposal plant, was in Palatine last week and reported to Village Officials that on a recent trip to Washington he learned that the WPA was shortening up to a large extent on the amount of their aid on such projects and that at the present time there was no possibility of any such grant being approved as Palatine had asked for.

And as it is impossible for Palatine to allocate any more funds than were set forth in their application it appears that the whole project is on the shelf for the time being.

The WPA may loosen up on their allocations after a fresh appropriation is passed by Congress and until such time the Palatine application will remain pigeonholed in Washington.

Meanwhile the state sanitary water board which has prohibited Palatine from dumping sewage into the creek will also have to wait until some means can be found to build a disposal plant or else shut off Palatine's sewer system.

The Palatine village officials have made every possible effort to conform to the orders of the state board but as it is impossible to raise money where there isn't any, it looks as if the matter is just where it has been for the last six years and that the only hope is a loosening up of WPA allotments some time in the future.

DRIVER HURT WHEN
CAR LEAVES ROAD

A car driven by Chas. E. Gentzel, age 39, of Chicago, skidded off Elmhurst road Saturday noon and inflicted rather severe injuries to Mr. Gentzel, who is now in the Mt. Prospect General Hospital.

Although there were witnesses to the accident, pending recovery to consciousness, on the part of the driver, the cause of the accident remains a mystery. It seems that Gentzel, who had left his home early in the morning to go hunting around St. Charles, was driving alone, north on Elmhurst road. At the intersection of Route 58 he failed to stop for the stop sign and about 500 feet north of the intersection, the car suddenly swerved to the left side of the road and skidded over an embankment and into the field. As the car hit the embankment, Gentzel was thrown out of the car, suffering facial bruises, a broken leg, and a slight skull fracture.

The accident occurred about 12:30 p. m. and Gentzel was rushed to the hospital unconscious. Saturday evening he became semi-conscious, but not sufficiently to intelligently answer questions and then relapsed into a coma in which he has remained since.

The body was taken to Lauterburg & Oehler undertaking parlors and later transferred to the Scott Undertaking parlors in Evanston.

Caldwell, who was 35 years old, resided in Wheaton.

District 25
New School
Up To Voters

Petitions are being circulated asking the board of education of school district No. 25, Arlington Heights, to call a special election for the purpose of giving the voters of the district the opportunity to vote upon the question of a new school building. If approved by the voters, the school board would complete its application to the government for the construction of a PWA project in which event Uncle Sam would contribute 45 per cent of the total cost.

A similar method was followed by the village of Arlington Heights three years ago when the present water tower and new deep well were constructed.

The school board is making no move until the voters have had the opportunity to express their desires. The "west" building was built nearly seventy years ago and there are many grandfathers of today who received their education within its walls.

The question of a new building is being brought forward at this time because no one knows the extent of time the government will continue PWA grants.

If the public votes "no" no blame can be subsequently given to the present school board for not availing themselves of free government money.

If the voters favor the project, the board would be justified in making a formal application to Washington for the grant. It is understood that the school board as a body will make no effort to influence the vote.

Whether or not Arlington Heights has a modern elementary school building or continues to send their children to the same structure where their grandfathers went to school, rests with the voters themselves.

Arlington Firm
Has Big Seating Contract
For Kansas City School

The Arlington Seating Co. recently was awarded the contract for the seats of the assembly hall of the Wyandotte high school, at Kansas City, Kansas, which school is to be the very latest in buildings of that nature. The assembly hall is one of the largest to be found in the country.

The local seating company has found that there is an unusual amount of construction of public buildings throughout the south.

Lutheran Laymen League
Meeting Friday, 8 P. M.

The Lutheran Laymen League of St. Peter church will assemble for an important meeting this Friday, 8 p. m. Matters of vital importance pertaining to policy, program and dues will be placed before the membership. A new and impressive ritual for opening the meetings and the reception of new members will be used for the first time.

Mr. T. Wilson, instructor at the high school, has consented to give an informal talk on a selected phase of natural sciences. He will illustrate his words with specimen objects. Mr. Wilson's talk will prove both interesting and instructive.

The officers anticipate a large attendance of the members for this meeting.

Band Concert
To Be Given
At Mt. Prospect

Judging from advance reports available the band concert Tuesday evening, February 9, at the Lutheran school auditorium, sponsored by our local Lions club, will be well attended.

The entertainment will begin promptly at 8 p. m. and admission will be free. The music is being furnished by students of our high school at Arlington Heights and the program promises to be a very enjoyable one.

37-Piece Band
There is to be a 37-piece band on hand to render regular concert numbers, in addition to which there will be trumpet duets and clarinet duets. The "Little German Band" and comedy numbers are scheduled and there also will be a piano solo and singing by a male quartet.

If Mrs. A. A. Ackley, 316 S. W. Pella street will present this paragraph at the Arlington Theatre, she will be admitted free any day up to February 11.

Palatine Fund
Passes $600 Mark

Palatine rose to the occasion in grand style in the flood relief drive which is still going on up to the present time. Slightly over $600 has been raised and there are more sources to be heard from. The ladies of the various organizations who did the canvassing started out with a rush the morning following the organization meeting and before night had raised a substantial sum.

The drive continued until every home in the village had been visited and flying squadrons were also visiting people out in the township.

All the schools put on a drive for funds and the school children of the township have contributed a total of $106.11 to the good cause.

The Palatine township high school raised $37.13, the grade school $33.47, the Lutheran school $10.00 and the country schools of the township $25.54.

The funds collected have been turned over to the Red Cross by the local group and any additional contributions will be turned in as soon as received.

In addition to the cash raised two truck loads of clothing have been delivered to the Red Cross from Palatine and another load is nearly ready. The drive for clothing will continue for some time as the need of those who were driven from their homes by the floods, in many cases losing nearly all of their possessions will be very great for a long time to come.

The committee requests all who possibly can to deliver the clothing to the store building in the Fedeler block which Mr. Fedeler has turned over to the committee for a clothing station.

Mr. Cordes, in the shoe store next door will let any one into the storage room during business hours.

A complete report will be issued by the committee next week and if anyone has not yet contributed or feels impelled to make another contribution the same will be gratefully received.

Once more Palatine has risen to the occasion in the cause of humanity and has done its bit for those unfortunate sufferers in the greatest peace time disaster in the nation's history.

Eva and Ella Lindner
Return to United States

Eva and Ella Lindner, daughters of the late Joe Lindner, Jr., arrived in Chicago last Tuesday from Roumania, where they have spent the last six years. They must learn the English language over again, although they were former residents of Arlington Heights and Ella, the 12 year old, was born here.

Their father, who formerly operated a tailor shop in Arlington Heights, returned to Roumania following the death of his wife here. A year ago he passed away and for the last ten months, the girls great uncle Joseph Lindner of the Arlington Heights Roller Mills has been endeavoring to secure their return to the United States.

Eva is residing with her uncle, while Ella is making her home at present with an aunt, Mrs. Dienert, in Chicago.

Miss Tegtmeier became sick with the flu Jan. 9, and 12 days later suffered a stroke. Late reports are that her condition now is better.

Boy Scout Week
Starts Next Monday

Next week the Boy Scouts of America are celebrating their 27th anniversary with a series of programs and celebrations all over the country. Scout Sunday will be observed on February 7th at which time special services will be held in a great many churches.

One of the features of the Boy Scout week in the Northwest Suburban Council is the Boy Scout pilgrimage to the statue of Abraham Lincoln in Lincoln Park on February 12, the birth date of the great emancipator. A wreath will be laid at the statue and a program will be conducted. Dr. T. Harry Kelly, pastor of the First Methodist church of Park Ridge will give a brief message on Lincoln and the twelve points of the Scout Law.

A Council-wide Court of Honor will be held on Monday evening, February 8th for all Scouts throughout the Council territory. This will be held at the Lincoln School in Park Ridge at 8:00 p. m.

A number of Troops are planning a special Troop celebration in honor of Boy Scout week.

Arlington
Turns Down
$12,000 Offer

Attorney Hugo J. Thal reported to the Arlington Heights village board Monday evening that he had received from the attorneys of the Sun Indemnity Co. an offer of $12,000 in settlement of the claim of the village on account of municipal funds that were in the closed Arlington Heights State Bank. Upon inquiry as to the fee that would be asked by Attorney Thal for his services in the case, the latter mentioned $1,200, whereupon the village instructed Mr. Thal to inform the company that settlement must include $13,200 plus the attorney's fee.

The unpaid principal of said deposits is $15,400. The company was willing that the village retain the right to any further dividends that might be paid by the bank receiver.

Other business transacted by the board Monday evening, included only routine matters, reports of committees, etc.

The police department reported collection of $4 in fines, the sale of business licenses to outside firms engaged in the village.

Delinquent water bills include 246 accounts totaling $1,387.35. The water department will make a special effort the next ten days to collect these accounts.

Fire hydrants damaged by autos were repaired and summons issued against two parties blamed for the accidents.

Bills and payroll totaling $1,862.58 were approved for payment.

Wheeling Relief
Families Receive
Surplus Commodities

Ninety families on relief in Wheeling township last week were apportioned their share of a shipment of surplus commodities purchased by the government and forwarded to Supervisor Chas. F. Grandt. Included in the shipment were 296 dozen of eggs, 253 pounds of walnuts, 645 pounds of prunes and 312 pounds of canned beef.

The receipt of these goods does not in any way effect the regular monthly quota of the families except the cost of transportation, which amounted to $18 in the shipment received Saturday. The office of E. J. Bouffard in the Vail-Davis building, was used for the food distribution, where the recipients were notified to call.

Board Enjoys
Movie Show
And Talks

The members of the Arlington Heights village board—those who were not home ill—spent an enjoyable evening Monday night. They received their pay checks, were treated to an educational sound picture and later, around a table at the Arlington Cafe listened to a lot of personal experiences of a U. S. reserve army pilot, who in every day life sells tractors and spends his spare time in air jaunts about the country. He had many tales of what he saw the last week-end in the flooded districts.

The tractor salesman-air pilot did not have the heart to use any high pressure salesmanship on the aldermen regarding snow plow equipment when there has not been any snow this winter, but just wait until the snow arrives.

Lydia Mueller and Elmer Capek United In Church Ceremony

Despite the drab, rainy weather prevailing last Saturday afternoon, St. Matthews Lutheran church was bright and cheery inside, when at 5 p. m. before the altar in a setting of palms, Miss Lydia Mueller, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Mueller of Des Plaines, and Mr. Elmer Capek, were united in marriage by Pastor Julius Toepe.

A friend of the family played the wedding march and also sang two appropriate selections.

Mr. August Trieboldt escorted his niece, the charming bride to the altar where she was met by her groom and his best man, Harry Altman. Her gown was the traditional white bride's satin, her lace trimmed veil falling in long, graceful folds. White roses in shrouded bouquets completed the pretty picture. Two dainty little flower girls, Anna Lou Trieboldt and Patricia Garrity preceded the bride. They were dressed identically in yellow tulle and carried baskets of rose petals.

Attending the bride were Miss Lucile Krueger, maid of honor and Annette Mueller and Lorraine Engel, the bridesmaids. Their gowns were likewise identical and in a lovely shade of ice blue. Miss Lucile carried yellow roses, the bridesmaids carried pink. Herbert Mueller and Anthony Bosch were the groomsmen.

Fifty guests attended the reception at the bride's home in Des Plaines where the wedding supper was served and the remainder of the evening spent at dancing. The newlyweds will make their home at 1629 Henry Ave., Des Plaines, where the best wishes of their friends accompany them for a bright and happy future.

Elk Grove Drainage
District May Ask
For WPA Grant

If WPA labor can be used on Salt Creek through the Elk Grove Drainage District and Elk Grove forest preserve, the farms in that territory may be saved an assessment. Salt Creek needs attention very badly; the labor involved would provide employment for many WPA workers of this part of Cook county. The village of Palatine is negotiating for a grant to rehabilitate its part of Salt Creek and DuPage county bodies are now at work in cleaning up the creek south of the county line.

The forest preserve district, is also interested in the project and is lending its aid to the drainage district in having a set-up prepared.

Township
Ticket Ready
For Filing

This spring is a big election year for local government bodies. All township and village will select men to fill all of the elective offices in those units. Friday, Feb. 5 is the first date for the filing of petitions for the township election which will be held April 2.

The present officials in Wheeling township will be candidates for re-election and petitions bearing their names are now in circulation. Feeling that politics have no place in local governmental bodies, the present officials formed a joint ticket irrespective of party affiliations, and providing recognition to the Wheeling village section of the township, which has been without a constable or justice of the peace since the last township election.

The candidates upon the coalition ticket thus far through are: For Supervisor, Chas. F. Grandt. For Town Clerk, Howard Helm. For Assessor, J. Fred Meyer. For Collector, Wm. Annen. For Commissioner of Highways, Herman Garms.

For Justices of the Peace (5 to be elected), Wm. E. Kopplin, Gilbert J. Klehm, William Weber, Carl M. Behrens, Carl Weider. For Constables (five to be elected), Carl H. Skoog, Floyd Dobbins, Geo. Mollenkamp, Al Sloob, Fred Hinz.

For School Trustee, Edmund G. Nickel.

The able manner in which the Wheeling township board has administered the affairs of the township is well known to local tax payers and voters. Through all the long years of the depression their position has not been an enviable one. The township treasury has been empty and with only part of the taxes being paid, it has taken the practice of strictest economy to keep the township government in operation. These men are asking for re-election and if accorded that honor hope to have the township finances out of the red before their terms of office expire.

Palatine township has adopted a similar procedure and all of the present township officials with the exception of the tax collector, are candidates for re-election. They are:

For Supervisor, John Meyer. For Town Clerk, George Howes. For Assessor, C. Deverman. For Collector, T. C. Hart. For Commissioner of Highways, Henry Roper.

For Justices of the Peace, E. P. Steinbrink, Wm. DePue. For Constables, Geo. Meyer, Chas. Folz.

Northwest Scout Movement
In Remarkable Comeback

The Scout movement in the Northwest Suburban Council has had one of the most remarkable comebacks on record.

The Council not only closed the year with all bills paid, something which the Executive Board did not feel could possibly be done, but have under way at the present time, a Council-wide organization to secure the budget for 1937.

The present development is the outgrowth of plans worked out by John L. Bell of Barrington, the new president of the Northwest Suburban Council and Charles S. Stewart of Des Plaines, Council Finance chairman. Under the leadership of the finance committee, and the leaders in the eleven participating communities in the Council, the services of W. Waldo Shaver of the Regional office of the Scout movement have been secured to help put the plan into action. Mr. Shaver will come into the Council during the process of organization and will be present at the inception of the drives in the various communities.

The services of Mr. Shaver are the gift of the National Council which believes that the work of the Northwest Suburban Council has been outstanding in meeting the needs of youth during the depression.

For the first time in the history of the Council the schedules of the campaigns will be simultaneous and every district and community will enter into the efforts to secure the council budget for 1937.

For the first time in the history of the Council the major objective will not be money, but the securing of boosters and backers for the movement in the suburban communities.

New Village
Hall Sought at
Mt. Prospect

Give Up Plans for Community House Because of Cost.

The February meeting of the Village Board was called an hour earlier than usual last Tuesday night, to afford time for a discussion of the much discussed "Community Center" with representatives of the various civic organizations of the Village.

President H. F. Meyn explained that the cost of acquiring a site for the proposed Community Center, plus the cost of the building, would be beyond the bonding limit of the Village, unless they considered the offer of the Country Club buildings on the south side. The Country Club buildings together with five acres of land, have been offered at a cost of between $25,000 and $30,000, with an additional 40 acres of land at $400 per acre.

This offer, from a price standpoint, of course is an attractive one, but the locality is considered impracticable for such a project and then no provision would be made for housing facilities for the fire and police departments. In view of all this the Board has been considering the erection of a Village Hall on the site of the present building, which would obviate the purchase of ground. The Village Hall would contain a large meeting room—providing a meeting place for the various organizations—library facilities—small meeting rooms and facilities for the fire and police departments—in fact this Village Hall would embrace all of the facilities proposed in a Community Center building with the exception of gymnastic equipment, swimming pool and park grounds.

It is unfortunate, of course, that we can not have a community park, with swimming and wading pools, gymnasium, etc., but if the cost of such a project is beyond the bonding limits of the Village, under its present population and set-up, there is no alternative. This seemed to be the consensus of the representatives present at the meeting and the Board will proceed to ask for a PWA grant for a Village hall.

During the course of the meeting the Board decided to decline the request of the Wolf Coal Co. for permission to establish a coal yard on the railroad right of way, just south of the village.

Discount on Business License
The Board also resolved to repeat the practice of last year of allowing a discount of 50% on business licenses paid before June 1.

Bids for tires for the police car and two truck tires were opened and read, but the matter was referred to the police committee with power to act.

An ordinance was passed providing for the inspection of all vehicles delivering perishable food or goods in the Village and providing an inspection fee therewith. This ordinance will be effective following its publication according to law.

Relatives Quarantined In Home Town

Mrs. Wm. F. Meyer, of Arlington Heights who was greatly alarmed a week ago because of failure to receive word regarding her father and brothers at New Albany, Ind., near Louisville has now learned that they are all safe, although one brother has lost everything.

New Albany is under martial law and quarantine and no residents are permitted to leave.

William Bossart, Baumer's father-in-law, who was in the car at the time, said that he had expected Baumer to meet him when he got off a train, but that the car wasn't at the station. He started to walk home. He saw the car parked in front of the tavern and went in. There he found Baumer. They each had, he testified, one glass of beer.

The Allen boy had both legs broken in the accident, and the result is that one leg is now shorter than the other. Baumer died three months ago.

That clause of the dram shop act under which the suit was brought, holds the tavern keeper who sells liquor to be responsible for damages that might result from liquor sold in his or her tavern. Judge William J. Sulton of Sycamore presided at the trial.

Edgard Elliott of West Chicago was attorney for the plaintiff.

Mutual Insurance
Officers Re-elected

The board of directors of the Cook County Farm Insurance Company met at a meeting of the new company's office 830 N. LaSalle street, Monday, Feb. 4, 1937. Officers for 1937 were re-elected as follows:

President, August Gewe; Vice President, John C. Sasse; Secretary, George Stein; Treasurer, George Stein.

The question of raising the liability risk which had been referred from the annual meeting was thoroughly discussed at the session with the result being that it was decided to raise the liability coverage from five and ten thousand to eight and fifteen thousand dollars with no extra premium charge, said coverage to be in effect on the 1937 policies.

Other matters taken care of at the meeting were routine business.

Milburn Bros. Gets
Barrington Street
Widening Contract

Milburn Bros. of Mt. Prospect, was awarded the Main street widening contract at Barrington Monday by the Cook County Board of Commissioners for $51,000. The improvement will extend from the Northwest highway to the west limits of the village.

Other contracts approved by the county board Monday were the improvement of Shore Factory road from Higgins to Elgin, Lincoln avenue from Niles Center to Morton Grove, Gross Point road, from Lincoln to Touhy.

A. F. Volz Shows America's Wonderland to Palatine Audience

The great west in all its colored and picturesque glory paraded before the Palatine audience when Al Volz of Arlington Heights gave a showing of part of his collection of colored movie films collected in the course of 6,000 miles of travel throughout the scenic wonderland which he brought to his audience in all its wild grandeur.

Mr. Volz has a hobby for the taking of movies of his trips and he has made a study of photography and all its angles.

The result has been that Al is as good as any professional and his audience Tuesday night sat spellbound as the wonders of the Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Canyon, the painted desert, the petrified forest and other places of scenic interest passed before them.

The colored springs of the Yellowstone were nothing short of wonderful with their varied and changing hues.

The spouting geysers threw their spray hundreds of feet into the air and the boiling and bubbling clay beds rolled and bubbled before a surprised and delighted audience.

The marvels of the mountain country at sunrise and sun set unfolded before the onlookers in all the wild and colored grandeur of the west, the painted cliffs, the snow capped mountains, the roaring mountain rivers, the tumbling falls and roaring rapids all did their stuff in the natural colors caught by Mr. Volz' camera and his untiring zeal in being on the spot to capture those glorious scenes on his camera, to be present when a certain geyser spouted or a certain spring boiled up.

From the Yellowstone to the Grand Canyon, the entranced audience traveled, and then back again into the Jackson hole country of Wyoming and on west to Mt. Hood and other snow capped mountains. The New Year's Day Tournament of Roses, parade with the beautiful floats, mounted cowboys and marching bands, paraded before the crowd.

Pictures taken deep beneath the water were shown to the amazement of the crowd.

People swimming thirty feet below the surface, fish, hundreds of them in great schools moving about in their natural environment in a manner that made every fisherman in the crowd long for his hook and line were thrown upon the screen to further astonish the audience.

And then changing from the tour of the west Al took his audience through a fairland of flowers, colored scenes of flowers were shown which took the onlookers from Mr. Volz' own back yard through a wonderland of flowers from Garfield park in Chicago, and other local scenes to the rose hedges of the west, the lily pools of California, the wild flowers of the great desert and hundreds of localities in between.

It was a wonderful and inspiring show and was highly enjoyed by the audience and Al, an old member of the Palatine lodge was voted a great photographer and showman by the entire audience, all of whom will never miss a chance to see any of Al's reels of his wanderings through the wild, picturesque and historic scenes of America's great outdoors.

As a "See America First Show" Al's performance was a masterpiece and his show put in the shade many highly touted performances put on by travel bureaus, railroads, etc.

If Al ever gets tired of running the Arlington Seating Co. and starts out conducting personally conducted tours through America's wonderlands we can see where he will be a huge success and will gather up a lot of local customers.

BOWLING NEWS

By HERB HAMMERL
Well, it's three more games on the credit side for Krause Market. They had little trouble taking all three games from Park View, who made a very feeble effort to ward off the attack. Led again by Geo. Harris, who by the way passed up his teammate, Bud Peters, and is now on top of the league individual standing. Not such bad shooting for a man who is getting pretty well along in years.

Vail Tavern were on their favorite alleys, 3 and 4, and came up with 2 out of 3 from Blatz. Vail totaled 2919 of which Rox Bolte got 644, which is good bowling in any league.

On 5 and 6 Arlington Elevator had little trouble taking 3 games from Union Tavern. Too many railroads and errors on 5 and 6, kept the scores down. But don't feel bad about that, they all have more or less trouble on those alleys.

Annual Report of
Miss Jackson, Arlington
Christmas Seal Nurse
Miss Martha Jackson, Arlington's community nurse, completed her annual report this week. As there are so many organizations and individuals that have a financial part in the local nurse fund and in the purchase of Christmas seals, the report is made public and is published herewith.
Those who are familiar with the class of service that Miss Jackson is giving to the community, can read between the lines of this report, and realize that those figures as large as they are, do not begin to tell the real service that our Christmas seal nurse gives to Arlington Heights.
Owing to the long illness of Miss Jackson, it should be remembered that the report really covers only seven months, and not the usual ten months.
Statistical report of work done by the Christmas Seal nurse, Miss Jackson in Arlington Heights, Ill., Jan., Feb., March, Sept., Oct., Nov., and Dec. of 1935.

EAST MAINE

Mid-week Lenten services will begin on Ash Wednesday, February 10th at St. Matthew's Lutheran church and continue every Wednesday evening throughout the Lenten season.

St. Matthew's Lutheran choir will give a benefit performance of their play "The Clay's The Thing," which they presented so successfully last week-end, Sunday evening, February 7 at 8 p. m. in St. Matthew's school hall. Funds derived from this special presentation will be devoted to the aid of our flood-stricken neighbors in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Jaacks surprised their family and friends here by returning from their Florida trip quite unexpectedly Sunday evening. Flood conditions made it necessary for them to drive out of their way for a great distance, however, they made the trip O. K. and came home by way of Washington, D. C.

Gilbert's Harmony boys will provide the music for the mid-winter dance being sponsored by Maine local of the Cook County Truck Gardeners Association at Mueller's hall, Morton Grove, Saturday evening, February 6. One and all are invited to attend, price of admission is 35 cents.

February 22, 23, and 24 are the dates selected for the twelfth annual Truck Growers' school to be conducted under auspices of the Illinois State university horticultural department with the Truck Gardeners Association co-operating. As usual the meetings will be held in East Maine February 22 and 23, and in Blue Island February 23 and 24. A change in the program this year will include a night session at each place, however more details concerning the programs and arrangements will be announced from time to time. Watch for them.

St. Matthew's Choir Play Scored A Hit

Another dramatic success for the members of St. Matthew's Lutheran choir has gone down into history, or rather, will go into history after next Sunday when the young people will give a special repeat performance of their play "The Clay's The Thing," for the flood relief benefit. But the three performances given last week-end at the school hall were a smashing hit and the size of the crowds attending increased each night with a capacity crowd recorded on Sunday.

This was an entirely different type of play from any previously presented but the cast put it over with admirable perfection. Pastor J. Toepel was the efficient coach and director, and to open the program the entire choir sang a humorous selection entitled "The Bug-house Serenade." Orchestral music between acts served to completely round out the program.

The play was a breezy college story where three college students, Jack, Luke and Jerry (played by Harold Finern, Earl Wilke and Fred Elsnor), cook up a mad scheme in which Jerry dresses as a lady and enters a beauty contest in an effort to win some money for the trio and get Jack's niece Dudley Briggs, (Henry Schellin) to endorse a beauty "Clay" Jack has concocted. Arriving at Atlantic City complications arise thick and fast when the trio meet Jack's sister (Evelyn Finern), and her friend Jessie Stuart, (Dorothy Koch), the eventual winner of the beauty contest; Jack's aunt Sarah (Lillian Finern) and the Briggs' wealthy guests, the Shakespeares, (Mr. Farmer, Erwin Pretzer), and his snobbish wife (Ada Toepel). Also at the party are Thomas Deems, a theatre magnate (Clarence Kath) and Millie, the Briggs' maid (Lydia Elsnor). However, like all good stories the tangles are eventually straightened out; Jack wins his beauty queen and sells his day, Jerry loses his disguise but wins Mary's hand and a theater contract while Luke replaces the "Harold who wasn't there" in Millie's affections. The Briggs and Farmers forget their differences and Mr. Deems takes his loss of the masquerading Geraldine like a good sport.

If you failed to see this amusing farce you will have one more opportunity to do so when the cast repeat the play for flood relief benefit next Sunday evening, February 7 at 8 p. m. Admission prices are 35 and 25 cents.

Supreme Court Verdict On Land Separation Case Expected Soon

Upon the eve of a verdict by the Illinois Supreme Court on the Green land separation case, the Village of Arlington Heights is faced with a second case of similar nature. Mayor J. D. Eleleie was served with summons last week in a case in which Win. Lump, of Morton Grove, is seeking to disconnect from the municipality his sixty acre farm in the northeastern part of the village.

Through the efforts of certain farm groups, the state legislature passed laws which permit owners of farm lands to disconnect from municipalities. The first law was declared invalid, but a second act of the legislature was upheld recently by the supreme court ruling on a down state case.

Attorney Thal has forwarded to Springfield this week papers calling the attention of the court to the fact that in the Green case, the land in question has been assessed for special assessments, and that if said land was allowed to withdraw from the municipality, the village would suffer an injustice by losing taxes that would otherwise be used for the maintenance of said sewage plant. Mr. Thal is taking the stand that the Green vs. Arlington case is not identical with the case upon which the court gave its recent decision.

The Lump case which is now being started is almost identical with the Green case, upon which a decision can be expected soon.

Second Semester Sessions Start At Arlington High

The second semester at Arlington Heights high school began Monday with little change in schedules except that hereafter all extra curricular activities will occur at the eighth period of the day in place of the first period. Regular class sessions will cease at the end of the seventh period. Students interested in special activities will have the opportunity of participating in them during the eighth period when the various clubs, etc., will meet. Pursuant to usual custom parents of members of the junior class have received notices advising them as follows:

In this school, as in almost all other schools, a practice has grown up of students purchasing a ring which is emblematic of their high school. Usually such a ring is purchased during the junior year, we desire to make it perfectly clear to all parents that the purchase of such a ring is purely a personal matter and is not in any sense required by the school. In fact, it is not even recommended.

We believe that such a ring may have high value to the individual pupil and be a source of pride and pleasure to them in later life. If parents desire their sons or daughters to purchase such a ring we see no objections and lend our assistance to the class in obtaining samples; at the same time, we try to protect them from unscrupulous concerns and salesmen.

The Junior Class desires to take up the question of class rings in the rather immediate future. We are suggesting to each member of the class that they talk the matter over with their parents so that if rings are ordered, it will be with the consent of the parents. Should any pupil, or parent, decide that the purchase of the ring is not a wise investment at the present time, we want to make it perfectly clear that this in no way affects the pupil's standing individually, or socially in this high school.
Very sincerely yours,
A. L. Conger, Prin.

Old and Young Enjoy Skating at Arlington Recreation Park

The kids, the young people and even some of the dads and mothers are having a lot of fun afternoons and evenings skating at the tennis courts. The park board spray the ice every cold morning and furnish the lights for night skating. There is no charge to the skaters.

The sled slide is even more popular than the ice pond. Where 75 people will be enjoying the latter, as many as 125 children will be lined up at the slide and it is one continuous stream going down the incline. Rumor has it that even some of our staid business men have been taking a turn with the sled of some lad.

Contrary to reports that may have been circulated, the Park board has made no move to request that work on the swimming pool project be delayed. They realize that WPA employees need a very cent of their monthly salary. However, they have requested that the work available at the park be given to local men in preference to outsiders.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cleveland heard from their son, Prof. Wm. Cleveland of Bloomington, Indiana, that six hundred refugees from the flood district had arrived in Bloomington. They speak of these guests as visiting friends, and we are sure they will find true friends in Hoosierdom.

Orson Rau attended a Christian Endeavor rally and banquet in the Third Presbyterian church. Orson also helped on the entertainment by giving two numbers on the coronet.

P. T. A. program, Feb. 16, at high school. Father's night address by Rev. John Hubbard.

Mrs. Emily Perry Bailey sent to an old friend here, a beautiful Japanese flower in a setting of southern moss, a beautiful rose-like blossom with glossy leaves. Word was received by a neighbor from a friend who is at San Antonio, Texas, telling of the unusual weather down there. Early in January they had nineteen days of rain. Then it turned cold and everything, even the roses in full bloom, were frozen stiff under a coating of sleet and ice. Health Talks

CONJUNCTIVITIS

Conjunctivitis, or inflammation of the outside coat of the eyeball is a very common eye infection. Not in itself a serious condition, it may yet rise to dangerous complications, as, for instance, ulceration of the Cornea, the front part of the eye. Conjunctivitis is common in people whose eyes are most exposed to irritation from dust, smoke, cold winds, etc. Even the strain upon the eyesight due to errors of refraction will cause the eyes to appear reddened and tender.

In some infectious diseases, and in measles, conjunctivitis is a well recognized symptom. This explains why epidemics often occur in schools, orphanages and similar institutions, the infection being readily conveyed on towels, sponges, etc., from one person to another. The most characteristic sign is that the eye becomes red or bloodshot. This is due to the swelling of the blood vessels and causes the eye to swell and cause a thickened fold to form on the edges of the eyelids, and cause a feeling like sand in the eye. In severe cases there may be great pain and the eyes become very sensitive to light and should be covered or the patient kept in a dark room.

The discharge from the eyes in the early stages is thin and serious, more or less resembles pus, after a few days.

The sticky secretions tend to keep the lids gummed together, so that there may be great difficulty in opening the eyes, especially in the morning. It usually starts in one eye first and is spread to the other by discharges from the eye first inflamed. It usually lasts from one to two weeks. These cases must be watched closely and never allow anyone to use your towels and sleep alone. Cleanliness is the most essential in this case. See your doctor at once and have good health always.

Highlights of last Sunday's Gospel Message
By Dr. W. A. Maier

St. Louis, Feb. 1 (Special)—Despite the devastation of the Ohio and Mississippi river floods, America has much to be thankful for in the matter of its natural blessings. Dr. Walter A. Maier, Ph.D., declared yesterday in his broadcast on the coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour Network.

Referring to the greater flood disasters of other countries, notably China, Dr. Maier appealed for national prayer and thanksgiving to God. "In 1911, when the Yangtze River flooded to a width of 35 miles, 100,000 lives were destroyed," Dr. Maier added, "and just 50 years ago, in 1887, when the Hoang-ho spread over its banks more than a million lost their lives."

Pointing out that in 250 years of American history the total recorded loss of lives in the major floods of the United States was 10,533, Dr. Maier said: "For every American life taken by floods and their consequences, 100 Chinese lives have been destroyed. We have been blessed as no other nation not only in the abundance of our national wealth and natural power, but also in the protection with which divine providence has guarded our nation and its home."

"However, the willful waste of these resources may produce alarming disaster. One of the factors that helps to swell the rushing floods is the ruthless denuding of the forests. In a single Texas oil field, enough natural gas is wasted every day to supply the entire household needs of the nation. Tons of California oranges have been permitted to rot on orchard floors; hundreds of thousands of apples have been thrown into the Columbia river; carloads of Alaska salmon lumped into the Pacific; extended creases of farm products ploughed under. This waste must be stopped, for no nation is wealthy enough to destroy its own blessings."

NORTHWESTERN R. R. INSTALLS HUGE SIGN

A new and spectacular advertising sign—hailed by many experts as the most brilliant in the country—blazed forth on the night of January 26th, on Michigan avenue, when the Chicago & North Western-Union Pacific Streamlined train sign was turned on before thousands of motorists and pedestrians at Michigan and Randolph streets.

The new sign stands atop a five-story building, which is called the most strategic spot for a sign of its kind in the United States. The new sign is 65 feet long and 35 feet high and depicts a streamlined train in motion. From its headlights a beam of light flashes across the traffic into Grant Park, camps and luminous tubing provide the lighting which is of 150,000 watts power. Due to its great brilliancy it is visible as far south as Roosevelt road.

A photograph message accompanies the moving train, which will be changed frequently, the message telling a story of Chicago & North Western-Union Pacific Train service westward.

Record Attendance At Zoo In 1936

The increasing number of rare attractions at the Chicago Zoological Park, Brookfield, brought attendance figures to a new high in 1936, it was announced this month by Director Edward H. Bean.

According to Bean, 1,573,661 persons visited the park last year. Of this number 127,852 paid admissions were counted. Children admitted free on pay days totaled 104,809.

The popularity of the park, since its opening in July, 1934, is demonstrated by the fact that 4,295,152 persons have passed through the gates in this period.

The policy of the Chicago Zoological Society in continually adding to its list of attractions each year has been instrumental in keeping alive the interest of the public in the park.

A report made by Director Bean at the annual meeting of the society held recently called attention to the fact that 741 mammals, representing 129 species, were shown at the zoo during the last year. In addition, 793 reptiles and amphibians, representing 139 species, and 1,079 birds, representing 326 species, were also shown.

Construction work has been keeping pace with the influx of animals and birds, the annual reports indicated.

In 1936 the projects completed included the sea mammal grotto at a cost of $52,400; the monkey island and the expenditure of $36,485; and antelope houses and yard at a cost of $42,590. Nearing completion is the giraffe house, the contract for which was let at an estimate of $58,067. Work has started, also, on the new Kodiak bear island and dens. The cost of this latest project is set at $48,022.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

We have boasted and we've boasted, one good folks in our town; All their worthwhile deeds we've posted.

In headlines up and down, we have praised each high official, Given glorified things superficial, Giving place to high renown, Yet if we even dare to mention One fault with no intention; Of harm, we would be roasted With a terrifying frown.

The Book tells us, "Men call evil good." After all isn't that just what we are doing as we look over the affairs in the world today?

If we elect men to rule over our state and nation and they fall asleep at the switch, thus allowing evil to destroy the peace and prosperity of our people should we call that good? After all we cannot make our town, state or nation better by calling evil good.

The tremendous destruction of life, homes and property, is so terrible, so appalling, one almost feels it wicked to be enjoying this stormy winter weather. We are urged to assist in relieving the sufferers in such a vast area of our nation. Go without some of our luxuries, deny ourselves and do all possible to increase the Red Cross fund.

Something whispers, remember your slogan, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." So your old Observer will leave the solving of these stupendous problems to those who are on the "home" or "roll" and pray that God will guide them, settle into my quiet corner and joy in the sunshine.

Let your costly autos flash, Along the broad highway; Let leading aviators smash Old records every day; And let the grandest music flow over the air on radio; No music on wave lengths now swells Equals the merry jingling bells Of an old time dancing sleigh.

Not today would it be in harmony with the world grief. The bells, the merry singing, "O the wild delight would would the already aching hearts of us all as we hear about the flood sufferers. Think of the family who refused to leave the second floor of their home when the flood waters had reached it and the rescue party had to almost force them to come to safety. How could they leave their home to destruction?

Cheer leaders come to us in the spring catalogues. We spoke last week of our helpful Farm Bureau man, O. G. Barrett's inclusive farm and garden catalogue. This week comes Vick's catalogue, a member of our family since way back when. Its pages glow with the old time asters, zinnias and all the family flowers of long ago.

Speaking of this cheery spring catalogue we are reminded of the "sooner" activities of some of our flower lovers, shouldn't be surprised to learn that Mrs. Cleveland will be planting sweet peas before Lent is past. Here's a little verse about that pretty blossom. I wrote for one who is just that to me.

Pretty prim and practical,
Sweet as sweet can be,
Brightest of the blossoms all
Blossoms the first sweet pea.
With its pinions pink and white,
Spread as for an early flight.

Stout and sturdy, speaking vim,
Tethered by a string;
All so pretty, perky-trim,
Blooming wing to wing,
Sweet submissive strength we see,
In the bright and brave sweet pea.

Paradoxical frail flower,
With such buoyant swing;
Subtly speaking secret power,
All alert to spring;
Are you watching earth?
For your winks to set you free,
Fairy fragrant flower, sweet pea.

From flowers back to floods. Are they sending these good waves of destruction to bring humanity into the realizing power of our common brotherhood? No bitter hatreds, no clash of creeds or nationalities, we are drawn by the cords of sincere sympathy to do all in our power to aid the homeless impoverished peoples now in the anguish driven flood area. No matter, what creed, tribe or nation our hearts go out to them in sincere sympathy, for are we not all God's children?

This truth touched the heart of me as I listened to Mayor Kelly's funeral for the flood sufferers Sunday over radio, did not even remember our political differences, nor the times we did not agree or admire him. Last night Mayor Kelly voiced the most earnest heartfelt sincerely sympathetic appeal for help for our suffering brothers and sisters in the stricken region of our land. It was a noble lofty appeal, a touching tender and sincerely sympathetic appeal for human brotherhood, worded in the loftiest expression of desire to aid.

So much touches our hearts today in little children we meet on the streets. Yesterday it was a bit cloudy and a small boy said he hoped it wouldn't rain as his father would have work if the weather was good.

Do you suppose that child's dinner or supper depended on whether his father had work? Over against that put the report of thousands spent on ski and other sports. How can we so recklessly spend so much for our own pleasure and forget those in need?

Recently so many have quoted Mark Twain's saying: "The Americans talk so much about the weather, yet never do anything about it." Is that so, Mark? What about gas burners, electric heat for houses, automatic steam heat and hot air and air conditioned houses to avoid too much summer heat?

This is only a small number of the things done to defy heat or cold and just read about drought control under government committees. Dear hoped humorist, don't be funny when you mean to be serious—look over all this generation has done and is doing to control the weather. Don't say anything about our draining streams and ponds, cutting trees and inviting drought and destruction.

Heard a father of three sons speaking this week of the dangers teaching in so many of our higher schools and colleges concerning the Bible and our Christian faith. Alas! How all too true it is. One can only exclaim with Paul "My son beware of the babblings of science falsely so-called."

Heard those Hampton singers singing "The Old Time Religion." We can only urge our children to cling to the rock of "Faith" our fathers founded on "The Book" the only book.

If the day is a bit gloomy, just look over the spring catalogues and cheer up. By the way, through the kindness of our Farm Adviser, we have it all set down in black and white, where we can get our garden and flower seeds, just supposing we have a garden.

Sorry but have to leave off the best part of my intended notes; watch, folks, next week there will be oodles of funnies, and don't forget some of you may be included in the paragraphs.

If this world contains one word Hated more by me
That all others ever heard,
'Tis the word "Policy."

It saps the life from everything,
'Til all is lifeless cold,
The prayer we pray, the song we sing,
It striketh dead and cold.

For "business must be business,"
Is chanted everywhere;
Until to own his mind is his
A man can scarcely dare.

Or to stand for his opinion,
However right it be;
Since he bows to the dominion,
Of that tyrant policy.

Funeral of Barney Franzen, Des Plaines, Held Wednesday

Barney L. Franzen, 566 Webford Ave., Des Plaines, died Sunday morning following a lingering illness of long duration. The funeral was held Wednesday at the Christ Evangelical church, with interment in the family lot at the Frieden Cemetery, Bensenville. He leaves his wife, Amanda (nee Ernsting), 3 sons and 2 daughters.

Deceased was a former officer of the Des Plaines State Bank and was engaged in the coal and lumber business.

Mrs. Fredericka Mueller, Resident of Elk Grove Eight Years, Passes

Mrs. Fredericka Mueller, eighty years old, who has resided practically all of her life in Elk Grove township, passed away January 30, after two days illness at the home of her grandson, Henry H. Juhnke, in Mt. Prospect. The funeral was held Monday at St. John's church, Elk Grove, with interment in Euclid Lawn cemetery.

The deceased, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Senne, was born in Elk Grove Oct. 17, 1856. She was confirmed in Palatine and later married Henry Mueller, making their home near the intersection of Elmhurst road and Route 58. Two children of this union have died, one in infancy and the other, Mrs. Sophie Juhnke in 1921. Mrs. Mueller died Nov. 24, 1912. Mrs. Mueller has made her home recently with her grandson.

There remain two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Hildebrandt, of Des Plaines and Mrs. Carl Othmeier, of Oklahoma, 3 grand children and 3 great grandchildren and one son-in-law.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the sympathies extended to us in our recent bereavement and especially Rev. F. L. Gehrs for his comforting service and also Luterburg & Oehler for their service.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Juhnke and Family.

Thrust upon adverse ways and rude
In business, here am I;
Forced by each day's vicissitude,
To hustle or to die.

And here's "the other fellow"
In office, store or mart,
Who friends regret to tell you
They feel they must give part.

Of their support or patronage,
All to you they'd rather give,
But life's too short e'er to engage
In contests while we live.

Your friends! O hateful fallacy,
Alas! they must decide
Their needed help for policy,
Their master is and guide.

If in forgetful humor,
Unstudied aid they show,
They're scared to death lest rumor
Let the other fellow know.

And O, the frauds by you and me
Endured in church and state,
Because of this one word I hate
Cold blooded policy.

In slavish dread I'm fearing
I'll tell my dear wife Nan,
When she gives a kiss endearing,
Best go kiss the other man.
O policy! O policy!
A hateful thing you are,
And more true men are slain by
thee,
That e'er were slain in war.

MOUNT PROSPECT RURAL FIRE TRUCK GETS FIRST CALL

The Rural League fire truck made its maiden trip Monday night when it was called out to extinguish a fire in one of Stanley's mushroom houses at Elmhurst road and Dempster street.

The fire, of unknown origin at this writing, was in the roof of the building housing the boiler, and because of a double roof packed with sawdust, there was plenty of smoke and the fire was a bit stubborn. However, surrounding farmers and members of the rural league brought water and the firemen soon had the fire extinguished.

ARLINGTON-BENSENVILLE IN THREE GAMES

Alumni, High School Lights
and Heavies Meet Friday Night.

One of the biggest crowds in years will jam into the Bensenville Community High School gymnasium Friday night, Feb. 5, to see the Bisons through a pre-conference game of a few weeks back which was erroneously listed in the Chicago newspapers as a 16-16 tie was a 18-16 triumph for the Warrenites over the regulation route. . . .

The Arlington five in the Northwest Lutheran church League after a mediocre showing in the first half has suddenly come to life to cop all four starts in the second half and claim a half share on first place with the high-scoring Des Plaines quintet. . . .

The work of Colba, C. Weinrich, Laseke and Luerssen on offense has been outstanding in this sudden sport while Scheele has braced up the defense considerably through some stubborn guarding. . . .

Art Meyer, Glenview's high scoring forward, dropped fourteen baskets and three free throws for thirty-one points. . . .

The Roselle entry in the Lutheran league, cellar occupants the first half, played smart basketball to down the strong Glenview five. . . .

ARLINGTON ALUMNI LOSE TO LOMBARD

Ex-Glenbard Stars In Visitors
Lineup; C. A. C. Girls Win
17-11.

By T. KOUZMANOFF
The Arlington Alumni five lost a rough and tumble basketball game to Lombard 29-24 last Saturday night, Jan. 30, on the local high school court in a battle that was marred by numerous fouls, twenty-nine in all. In the opener the Arlington C. A. C.'s registered their second win over the Lombard girls, this time by a 17-11 count in a well played tilt.

Locals Lack Teamwork
Showing a direct reversal of form over their previous week's overwhelming 57-22 victory of the C. & N. W. R. quint the locals' attack lacked the usual smooth team play by passing and shooting wildly.

Trailing 7-5 at the quarter, Arlington, aided by Pingel's basket and two free throws forged ahead 14-12 at the end of the first half. Leading 20-19, but hanging on desperately, the home five, handicapped by the loss of Koske and Kopplin on fouls, tired badly in the final stages to drop a 29-24 decision.

Effort of the visitors topped the scorers with three baskets and four free throws for a ten point total. Arlington Girls Win Curtain Raiser

The C. A. C. girls played fast, smart basketball in the opener to down their Lombard opponents 17-11.

The home dames jumped into an early 6-0 lead on baskets by Bolte, Gieseke and Kastning. Going into the second half with a safe 12-3 lead Coach O'Hagen substituted freely to coach all his charges into the ball game.

"Gertie" Weinrich led the visitors' scoring with two baskets for four points.

Palatine Lose Twice to Niles

Last week Palatine absorbed a double defeat at Niles Center. The regulars lost 16-12 in a game which was close all the way until the final minute. The Pirates found Niles the best team of ball handlers met this year with Etherton a stand out.

Niles had beaten Arlington the previous week 29-22.

Palatine's defense was top notch, but so was the zone employed by Niles. Both teams resorted to many long shots. None of Palatine's connected. Palatine had the edge at the start, but blew many chances on a fast break. Niles led 8-7 at the half. Haemker scored two baskets for Palatine. Etherton did the same for Niles.

Hayes, Arlington assistant coach, officiated in a manner which goes to prove that you don't need to go outside the conference to find top notch referees.

Palatine's lights held the tall Niles team for one half 4-1, but they fell badly before their opponents fast break with a final result of 29-5.

One of the weakest teams of the first half, Roselle, showed her ability to one of the teams engaged in that playoff, last Wednesday, January 27, in a game that was thrilling, though it was no paragon of basketball. The game was disappointing in that it contained scores of shots but very few baskets.

The Dierking brothers of Roselle netted only a half dozen baskets between them, and Art Meyer just let and scored only four baskets in all, and scored only four baskets in all.

The first half turned into a rather humdrum affair with each team matching the other basket for basket until Glenview gained a point in the final minute. Roselle caught up by the time the third quarter had ended, and from then on the game was very interesting.

Norbert Rohlfing, Roselle's basketball star who also shines on the track, kept his team well in the running with timely baskets, which matched the free points Glenview rolled up from the six personals and one technical foul called on Roselle.

After their fourth foul in this same quarter, the Heights continued bravely despite the loss of Carl Weinrich and their six foot four center, Laseke.

This loss, takes Palatine out of first place, occupied now by Des Plaines and Arlington Heights.

Lacking three regulars, Park Ridge "just played" against Glenview, and then continued to come out, and (as expected) lost—again, however—50-21. The game was uneventful, but interesting to those who followed the league games closely, for the game really showed what a group of inexperienced players could do when on their own. Three Ridge players scored the first points of the season in this game, and they played way over their head, as compared to previous performances.

Art Meyer took advantage of the occasion to set up a new scoring record for the league by sinking 14 baskets and three free throws for a 31 point total—2 points over Elmer Mensching's record set in the first half. He and Lass, center scored nine baskets the second half as against two by Park Ridge.

CARDINALS MUST PLAY SOME REAL BASKET BALL

Their Season's Honors Depend Upon Attitude of Players, Themselves.

Arlington's Cardinals are facing a crucial three weeks in their basketball campaign. Four more conference games remain on their calendar (Bensenville, Leyden, Antioch and Libertyville), and then whatever games they may draw in the state basketball tournament the last of February and the first of March. Definitely the Cardinals must win at least three and perhaps all four of these games to be able to point back with pride at the conclusion of the season and feel that they have accomplished that of which to feel satisfied.

To date this year the boys have accomplished much in the way of improvement. At the conclusion of last year's season they experienced an awakening to the possibilities that lay within their grasp and this season have been capitalizing on that change of attitude. Last year it was hard to separate the squad into a "Light" and "Heavy" organization. All the members of the squad had equal experience. The larger boys were put on the heavies and the smaller, lighter boys naturally drew the lightweight assignments. This year they are all back together once more where they were as Frosh and Sophs.

This year they, as a heavyweight team have succeeded in beating boys from other towns that they had never been able to win from before, even dating back to grade school games. Several of this year's crop of Cardinals have had competition against several of the boys on the squad from the other schools they play, and until this year have been unable to win before, either last year as lights, as Frosh-Sophs, or in the grammar school. This change has largely been due to a change in attitude—the desire to play to win.

Now in these next few games it remains to be seen if they will keep on improving. Several of the boys on the squad have a natural tendency to take things easy. Some of them come very nearly to assuming a swing complacency attitude that now they are near the

Earliest Bookplates

The earliest known bookplate is from a clay tablet and reads: "Property of Assurbanipal, King of the World, King of Assyria."

The earliest example made of paper is a German woodcut of 1450. The earliest American example is a printed John Williams plate (1670).

Antioch At
Palatine Friday

Palatine's cage teams open the second semester of competition and the last lap of the conference race when they take on the strong Antioch teams here Friday, Feb. 5.

The Pirate teams will both have altered lineups due to loss of players. Kamm, whose ball handling and passing was of high order, is ineligible for further competition due to the fact that he has completed eight semesters of high school work. Coming here last year from Chicago, Kamm has made a good record in basketball and has been one of the highest ranking students in Antioch.

O'Brien, the high scorer of the team, was lost just before the Arlington game. A small scratch resulted in blood poison in two days time and Jack was confined to bed for five days. He will not be ready physically to take part in this week's game and may not play any more this season. O'Brien had scored two fifths of Palatine's points in conference games with an average of eight a game.

Nangle and Golden have been promoted to the first team and along with Capt. Philbin, Bretsnyder, Koch, Freise and Haemker, make up the heavy weight squad. This group has defensive strength and height but is handicapped by lack of speed. The starting lineup Friday will likely find Haemker at center; Philbin and Bretsnyder, guards; and the forwards selected from the remaining four boys with Golden and Koch having a slight edge.

The lightweighters are now for the most part boys who were second team substitutes at the start of the season. Herrmann is the only veteran left and he has been out lately with a minor operation due to an injury to a toe. The lineup Friday will likely find Fink at one forward and either Norman Freise or Stewart at the other. Rennack or Schinkosky will be at center. Buenzow, Herrmann and Kraft.

The remainder of the Pirate schedule is anything but light. After meeting Antioch Friday the Pirates go to Libertyville the following Friday and then meet Elia and Warren on Feb. 16 and 19 with the latter game on the home floor. The new Antioch and Libertyville are tied with Palatine in fourth place with four victories and three defeats. Elia is tied for second place. The Pirates will have to play good ball to finish with more victories than defeats against this lineup.

Antioch has the same team as last year which the Pirates downed 18-17 in the final of the season. This year Antioch has beaten Wauconda, Grant, Warren and Elia and lost to Libertyville, Lake Forest and Barrington. The Indians and the Pirates are rated at about equal strength. This appears to be the best home game remaining on the Palatine schedule. If the Pirate offense can get the score up into the twenties, Palatine should win.

There will be a session of dancing right after the games.

AT THE CATLOW

Here "Ginger" Jane Withers as Dixie's honey chile in her latest and greatest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "Can This Be Dixie?" which the film really shines all the time. "Can This Be Dixie?" will play at the Catlow theatre Saturday. A fine supporting cast includes Slim Summerville, Helen Wood and Thomas Beck.

There are many reasons why you'll find "Theodora Goes Wild" coming to the Catlow Theatre Sunday and Monday, gay, impeccable entertainment, foot above all the revelation of Irene Dunne as a glamorous, captivating comedienne. Its action is fast, punctuated with rich directorial touches by Richard Boleslawski.

Recalling that his number was 6 when he played ice hockey for Fordham University, Dick Parell asked that he be given the number to wear in "King of Hockey," the Warner Bros. picture showing Tuesday at the Catlow Theatre.

Ranking with the most thrilling animal action scenes ever captured by the camera is a battle to the death between a man-eating tiger and a fierce leopard which is one of the dozen thrills in "The Jungle Princess," double featured on Tuesday at the Catlow theatre. Dorothy Lamour, noted radio artist, and Ray Milland, play the principal roles.

"Gold Diggers of 1937," latest in the famous series of every-year musical comedies made by Warner Bros., opens Wednesday for a three day run at the Catlow theatre, with Dick Powell and Joan Blondell, the newweds, as its stars. Victor Moore, popular comedian of the New York musical comedy stage, helps support the Powell-Blondell star combination. There is also Leroy Dixon, noted eccentric dancer from Broadway, making his screen debut; a new and striking torch-singer named Rosalind Marquis, besides such familiar fun-makers as Glenda Farrell, Osgood Perkins, Olin Howland, Irene Ware and Charles D. Brown.

Lydia Mueller and
Elmer Capek United
In Church Ceremony

Despite the drab, rainy weather prevailing last Saturday afternoon, St. Matthew's Lutheran church was bright and cheery inside, when at 5 p. m. before the altar in a setting of palms, Miss Lydia Mueller, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Mueller of Des Plaines, and Mr. Elmer Capek, were united in marriage by Pastor Julius Toepele.

A friend of the family played the wedding march and also sang two appropriate selections.

Mr. August Trieboldt escorted his niece, the charming bride to the altar where she was met by her groom and his best man, Harry Altman. Her gown was the traditional white bride's satin, her lace trimmed veil falling in long, graceful folds. White roses in shower bouquet completed the pretty picture. Two dainty little flower girls, Anna Lou Trieboldt and Patricia Garrity preceded the bride. They were dressed identically in yellow taffeta and carried baskets of rose petals.

Attending the wedding were Miss Lillian Kroug, maid of honor and Annette Mueller and Lorraine Engel, the bridesmaids. Their gowns were likewise identical and in a lovely shade of ice blue moire. Miss Lucile carried yellow roses, the bridesmaids carried pink. Herbert Mueller and Anthony Bosch were the groomsmen.

Fifty guests attended the reception at the bride's home in Des Plaines where the wedding supper was served and the remainder of the evening spent at dancing. The newlyweds will make their home at 1629 Henry Ave., Des Plaines, where the best wishes of their friends accompany them for a bright and happy future.

EAST MAINE

Mid-week Lenten services will begin on Ash Wednesday, February 10th at St. Matthew's Lutheran church and continue every Wednesday evening throughout the Lenten season.

St. Matthew's Lutheran choir will give a benefit performance of their play "The Clay's Thing," which they presented so successfully last week-end, Sunday evening, February 7 at 8 p. m., in St. Matthew's school hall. Funds derived from this special presentation will be devoted to the aid of our flood stricken neighbors in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Jaacks surprised their family and friends here by returning from their Florida trip quite unexpectedly Sunday evening. Flood conditions made it necessary for them to leave out of their way for a great distance, however, they made the trip O. K. and came home by way of Washington, D. C.

Gilbert's Harmony boys will provide the music for the mid-winter dance being sponsored by Maine local of the Cook County Truck Gardener's Association at Mueller's hall, Morton Grove, Saturday evening, February 6. One and all are invited to attend, price of admission is 35 cents.

February 22, 23, and 24 are the dates selected for the twelfth annual Truck Growers' school to be conducted under auspices of the Illinois State university horticultural department with the Truck Gardeners Association co-operating. The school meetings will be held in East Maine February 22 and 23 and in Blue Island February 23 and 24. A change in the program this year will include a night session at each place, however more details concerning the programs and arrangements will be announced from time to time. Watch for them.

St. Matthew's Choir
Play Scored A Hit

Another dramatic success for the members of St. Matthew's Lutheran choir has gone down into history, or rather, will go into history after next Sunday when the young people will give a special relief performance of their play "The Clay's Thing," for the flood relief benefit. But the three performances given last week-end at the school hall were a smashing hit and increased each night with a capacity crowd recorded on Sunday.

This was an entirely different type of play from any previously presented but the cast put it over, each player taking his or her part with admirable perfection. Pastor J. Toepele was the efficient coach and director, and to open the program the entire choir sang a humorous selection entitled the "Bug-house Serenade." Orchestral music between acts served to completely round out the program.

The play was a breezy college story where three college students, Jack, Luke and Jerry (played by Harold Finnern, Earl Wilke and Fred Elser), cook up a mad scheme in which Jerry dresses as a lady and enters a beauty contest in an effort to win some money for the trio and get Jack's uncle Dudley Briggs, (Henry Schellin) to endorse a beauty "Clay" Jack has concocted. Arriving at Atlanta City complications arise which are thick and fast when the trio meet Jack's sister (Evelyn Finnern), and her friend Jessie Stuart, (Dorothy Koch), the eventual winner of the beauty contest; Jack's aunt Sarah (Lillian Finnern) and the Briggs' wealthy guests, the Shakespeares quoting Mr. Parmen, (Ervin Pretzer), and his snobbish wife (Ada Toepele). Also at the party are Thomas Deems, a theatre magnate (Clarence Kath) and Millie, the Briggs' maid (Lydia Elser). However, like all good stories the tangles are eventually straightened out; Jack wins his beauty queen and sells his clay, Jerry loses his disguise but wins Mary's hand, and a theater contract while Luke replaces the "Harold" who wasn't there; all of Millie's affections. The Briggs and Parmen forget their differences and Mr. Deems takes his loss of the masquerading Geraldine like a good sport.

If you failed to see this amusing farce you will have one more opportunity to do so when the cast repeat the play for flood relief benefit next Sunday evening, February 7 at 8 p. m. Admission prices are 35 and 25 cents.
